

Gene length does not explain the neuronal chromatin response

Mark fold change inside gene-length quintiles

Equal-count quintiles of gene length, so length cannot drive a within-panel difference

Rank-biserial correlation, neuronal against other, inside each quintile

Positive means neuronal genes carry the higher log2FC in that quintile

BH q < 0.05 ● Not Significant ● Significant

